HAZED BY FLAMES

A Mill Hand Was Put Through Frightful Torture.

HELD OVER BLAST FURNACE

Flesh Was Shriveled and His Clothing Charred—It Is Said There Is Still Hope of the Unfortunate Man's Recovery.

Washington, Pa., Sept. 11.—Henry Perry, a mill worker of Wheeling, W. Va., is said to be dying from a hazing administered by fifty employees of the Tyler Tube and Pipe company.

Burned and beaten, there is little hope for his recovery. The Tyler company steel workers have a custom of initiating new employees.

At the midday lunch hour, Perry was seized by a couple of powerful mill men that he might be put through the "degree." Perry fought and with iron pipes warded off his tormentors until overpowered.

He was fastened to a hook of a big iron crane and swung above the fire of a big blast furnace.

Finally, the cords were burned through and Perry's unconscious form dropped to the floor right in front of the furnace, where his flesh shriveled and his clothing charred.

STORM VISITS CHATTANOOGA.

Wind Reached a Velocity of 50 Miles an Hour.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 11.—During a severe storm, which swept over the city Monday afternoon, when the wind reached a velocity of 50 miles an hour, several accidents occurred which were of more than ordinary interest, owing to their unusual character.

On McCallie avenue, the principal thoroughfare of the city, an automobile containing two ladies was blown out of the street onto the sidewalk, the ladies thrown out, and the machine damaged against a tree. The party in the automobile were coming into the city at a rapid rate to get out of the storm, the machine going at about 25 miles an hour.

It was going directly in the face of the wind, and just as it turned, a terrific gust of wind blew the machine completely around, running it into a bank and tree before being stopped. The ladies were thrown out and more or less severely shaken up, besides sustaining a number of painful cuts about the face and the hands.

On Missionary ridge, above the city, the wind reached a velocity much greater than in the city. While an automobile containing James Howe, a prominent merchant, was going along the Crest road, on the ridge, the wind blew him out of the machine against an embankment, severely injuring him.

CIGARETTE FIRES.

They Cost the City of New York About $2,500,000 Yearly.

New York, Sept. 11.—A yearly chart has just been completed covering 6,357 fires in Manhattan and the Bronx and calling attention to some interesting facts. It is estimated that fires started by carelessly dropped matches and cigarettes cause New York city a loss of about $2,500,000 each year.

The city has an average of over 25 fires every day, and fire losses in 12 months from all causes aggregate something like $10,000,000. Every time an alarm comes in, no matter whether it is false or not, the cost to the city is $50 for wear and tear of the fire apparatus. The city also pays out something like $500,000 for damage done to asphalt pavements by children's bonfires in the streets.

Convene in Ottawa.

Lima, Ohio, Sept. 11.—The fifteenth annual convention of the Catholic Knights of Ohio will be opened in Ottawa next Tuesday with an address by St. Rev. Ignatius Horstman, of Cleveland. Mayor T. F. McElroy will make the welcoming address.

WOMAN WEIGHS 525 POUNDS.

Remarkable Case of Elephantiasis Is Reported from Brooklyn.

New York, Sept. 11.—Physicians at the Kings county hospital, Brooklyn, have there a remarkable case of that rare disease elephantiasis.

The patient is Mrs. Juliette Felt, of Brooklyn, widow, 63 years old. Before she was attacked by the disease she weighed 149 pounds. She now weighs 525 pounds and is gaining daily in size. Her skin is thick, hard and coarse, like an elephant's.

The disease first manifested itself seven years ago. It began with an itching in one of her legs. This then caused in a short while, but it was followed by a swelling of the limb, accompanied by pain. Then she began to gain weight rapidly.

The body, arms and legs, have been affected, but not her face. She thought herself growing fat from natural causes, but could not account for the pain which attended her increase in bulk. Two years ago she found she weighed 350 pounds, and then in alarm she resorted to medicines, and dieting, but these measures were of no avail.

A week ago a physician diagnosed her trouble as elephantiasis. An idea of the effect of the disease may be had from the fact that each of her legs is as large in circumference as the body of a well developed man.

The doctors do not yet know whether she will recover.

MYSTERIOUS CAVE.

"Purgatory" Cavern Attracting the Attention of Scientists.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 11.—"Purgatory," a cave only a few miles from this city, many of whose mysterious bypaths have yet to be explored, is now attracting the attention of scientists all over New England, because of the failure of Miss Lucia S. Thompson of Boston, a well known mountain climber, to penetrate the cavern. Miss Thompson found herself unable to proceed much beyond the entrance to the cavern, as it was icebound.

No one has yet had the courage to penetrate the furthest depths of the cave, and such an attempt is admittedly fraught with danger, for at its bottom is an unexplored subterranean lake or river. There are scarcely three months in the year in which it is possible to enter the cave.

Miss Annie Peck, whose feats of mountain climbing have given her fame, will try to explore the cavern.

MARRIES GREEK POET.

Picturesque Wedding Occurs at Bar Harbor, Maine.

Bar Harbor, Me., Sept. 11.—Miss Eva Courtlandt Palmer, of New York, was married Monday at Brookend, the cottage of her mother, Mrs. Robert Abbe, to Angelo Sikelianis, a Greek poet.

The wedding was made picturesque by the costume of the bride, who, though an American girl, wore a classic Greek tunic of purple and white and jeweled sandals beneath bare feet, while her hair, which reached to the floor, was loosely braided and crowned with a Greek fillet. This is a costume she has adopted for permanent use, believing it to be the most healthful.

The bridegroom also appeared in a native costume. The couple will go to Greece to live after the honeymoon.

Van Marter Dies in Bolivia.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 11.—Dr. J. A. Van Marter, formerly of Savannah, died in South America about two weeks ago. He was with a commission appointed by the Bolivian government to establish the boundary between Bolivia and Brazil. The news of his death was received by his family through the state department. Dr. Van Marter was 37 years of age, and was born in Switzerland. He married Miss W. H. Calkins in 1903, in Tacoma, Wash.

Contract for New Mill.

Wedowee, Ala., Sept. 11.—The contract for the erection of the new mill of the Wedowee Oil Mills company has been let to P. O. Randall, of Talladega, and the plant will be ready for the fall crop of seed.

KILLED BY A BURGLAR

Brave Woman Defending Home Is Shot to Death.

BULLET SENT TO HER HEART

Wife of Lieutenant Frank Rorschach, U. S. N., Murdered in Her Home Near Portsmouth, Va., by Man Who Was Plundering Her Home.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 11.—Mrs. Mary Lawless Rorschach, wife of Lieutenant Frank Rorschach, U. S. N., and sister of Joseph T. Lawless, former secretary of the commonwealth of Virginia, was murdered in her home, at Portsmouth, in the suburb of Park View, by an unknown burglar early Tuesday morning.

She was shot through the heart with her own pistol taken from her hand by the burglar after she had fired twice upon him through an open door leading into the kitchen where she was cornered.

Shot Awakened Boy.

The pistol shots awakened the oldest boy, Frank, Jr., and the mother cried to the boy upstairs:

"Frank, somebody has taken my pistol from me and shot me. Go quickly for help."

The boy rushed for help, but when he returned with neighbors his mother was dead. An effort was made to inform Lieutenant Rorschach by wireless of the tragedy.

The Rorschach home is immediately in the rear of the naval hospital woods in Portsmouth, and near a lumber mill, which negroes frequently pass. A newsboy who lives near the home saw a negro shortly after the tragedy running rapidly by his home towards the small foot bridge whence the bloodhounds went when they took the scent. The negro was taking off his coat.

While Mrs. Rorschach had a lamp in her hand the burglar was in the kitchen in the dark. He evidently heard the man and fired in the direction. Hot bullets fired by the woman were found in the wall of the kitchen.

Pistol Placed to Her Breast.

Mrs. Rorschach with her money tied in a roll and hanging around her neck, had run down stairs by the back steps; she was found lying with her head on the second step. The pistol had been placed close to her left breast over her night dress and discharged. It was a five shooter. Of these, two were fired by Mrs. Rorschach and one fired by the burglar. Her money and jewelry were unharmed.

The victim's youngest child, Lawless, slept through the excitement.

Mrs. Rorschach was a handsome woman about 36 years old, and one of the most accomplished musicians in the state of Virginia.

Lieutenant Rorschach was formerly of Kansas, but was appointed to the navy from Virginia.

Whether the murderer was a negro or a white man is unknown. He escaped, dropping the pistol as he fled from the house.

Bloodhounds carried to the house from the Portsmouth jail secured a scent and ran from the house. This was soon lost, however, and the dogs have since been unable to pick up the trail.

Mrs. Rorschach, whose fearlessness was well known, was living with her children, aged 7 and 5. Her husband, Lieutenant Rorschach, formerly of the United States battleship Kentucky, but more recently promoted and transferred to the United States cruiser Tennessee, now with Admiral Evans' fleet off Provincetown, Mass., on target practice, was absent.

Glass Blowers on Strike.

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 11.—The glass blowers employed at the Hoosier bottle works here went out on a strike Monday for higher wages. The plant employed nearly three hundred men and had been operated only six days after a shutdown of several months.

DEATH OF COLONEL SHUMATE.

Prominent Attorney of Dalton, Ga., Has Passed Away.

Dalton, Ga., Sept. 11.—At his home here Monday afternoon, Colonel L. E. Shumate, a prominent lawyer of the state, surrendered his spirit and passed to the great beyond.

Colonel Shumate's illness had been brief, dating only from Thursday, when he was suddenly stricken with complete paralysis in the whole left side of his body. He recovered somewhat Friday, and was even more improved Saturday and Sunday, regaining almost entire control of his faculties.

Monday night he was again attacked, and soon passed away.

At the time of his death Colonel Shumate was 73 years of age. He was widely and favorably known in legal circles of the state, having practiced before the courts of a number of its counties and before the supreme bar. He was counsel for the Southern railway at Dalton.

The deceased lawyer was as prominently identified with religious interests as he was with the bar. He was regularly in attendance upon Methodist conferences of the state, and is not known to have missed more than one or two of those gatherings since his early manhood.

Colonel Shumate is survived by his wife and six children.

PANIC IN CROWDED ROOM.

Husband Tries to Kill Wife from Whom He Was Separated.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11.—Falling in an attempt to effect a reconciliation with his wife, from whom he had been separated, Wm. B. Herbert Monday night fired five shots into a crowded room where his wife was seated, slightly wounding her sister, Mrs. George W. Northy. Several others in the room narrowly escaped being hit by the flying bullets. With one remaining cartridge in his pistol, Herbert turned the weapon upon himself and sent a bullet into his left breast just below the heart. He is not expected to live.

But for the presence of mind of Mrs. Herbert she undoubtedly would have been killed. Seeing the revolver pointed at her, she grasped one of her young children and threw herself prone on the floor. The shot missed her. She then crawled toward a door, and a second shot passed over her, striking Mrs. Northy in the arm. A third shot grazed Mrs. Herbert's cheek.

Stowaway Swam to Liberty.

New York, Sept. 11.—A Portuguese stowaway aboard the steamer Glencairn, just in from Huelva, was put to work at the beginning of the trip and was told that at the end he would be sent back to Europe. When the lights of the New Jersey shore were in sight on Saturday night the Portuguese decided that he would swim the rest of the way to America. He was not missed from the ship until she dropped anchor off Sandy Hook. A rope was seen dangling over the stern and a life buoy had been cut away. Captain Gillings inferred that the stowaway had taken the buoy with him to assist in his efforts to reach the Jersey shore.

Child Meets Awful Death.

Cedartown, Ga., Sept. 11.—A horrible accident occurred late Saturday evening at the home of Mr. Frank Bolling, about four miles south of the city, by which his little thirteen-year-old daughter, Lucy, lost her life by being burned to death in a bowl of hot grease. The mother was cooking supper and had just placed the vessel on the table near the child. Suddenly the cry of the little girl showed that she had turned over the bowl and spilled the contents on her face and neck and body. Medical aid failed to relieve the little sufferer, and death claimed the victim later in the night.

Will Resume Operations.

Barbourville, Ky., Sept. 11.—The strike in this district was practically broken when the Matthews Coal Co. resumed operations at its big Wayne properties with imported miners. The strike was called last March, and operations were practically tied up for months.

ANTI-ASIATIC RIOTS

Believed Further Trouble Will Occur in Vancouver.

SPECIAL POLICE SWORN IN

It Is Said that Hundreds of Orientals Are Buying Fire Arms in Anticipation of Further Trouble—Bloodshed Is Feared.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 11.—There is great apprehension of further anti-Asiatic rioting here and all day Japanese and Chinese crowded the local gunshops to buy firearms and ammunition.

They declare they will defend themselves and property. In case the Oriental quarters is again attacked, it is feared there will be bloodshed, for the Japanese and Chinese are thoroughly alarmed and are convinced the police are powerless to protect them.

Shortly before dark the police notified the gun shops to cease selling firearms to anyone for the present. Before the order was issued, however, several hundred Chinese and Japanese had armed themselves.

All Chinese and Japanese in domestic circles, of whom hundreds are employed in Vancouver, have stopped work and have been forced by the threats of their countrymen to act as part of the defensive guard.

Oriental employed in the mills have also stopped work and have taken refuge in the quarters occupied by their countrymen, where they are preparing to assist in repelling any further attacks that may be made.

Two hundred special policemen were sworn in Monday, and there is talk of calling out the military.

Feeling runs high, and an attack is likely to occur at any time.

So far there has been no one killed, but several of those injured in the riots are in a serious condition.

Riots Carefully Planned.

Portland, Oreg., Sept. 10.—The Oregonian prints the following special from Seattle, Wash.:

Every indication is that the Vancouver, B. C., riots were carefully planned to impress Ishii, chief of the bureau of foreign commerce. It is significant that the leaders of the Seattle organization against Japanese immigration were in Vancouver, heading the demonstration. Frank W. Cotterill, president of the Washington State Federation of Labor; A. W. Fowler secretary of the Anti-Japanese and Korean Immigration league; G. P. Listman, a prominent Seattle labor lawyer, all were present together with a big delegation of American anti-Japanese sympathizers.

The significance of the Japanese riot dates back to a program evolved when it was announced that Ishii was coming to Seattle. It was then decided and telegraphed out of Seattle that the anti-Oriental organizations proposed to present to Ishii while he was in Seattle a protest against Japanese immigration. At the time this plot was formulated it was believed Ishii would spend a week in Seattle and then go to Vancouver. There was planned at a conference between Vancouver, B. C., and Seattle anti-Japanese leaders all the details for a big anti-Japanese demonstration in Vancouver Sept. 12. It developed that Ishii did not have time to spend in Seattle and he went on through to Vancouver. Simultaneously with his going, local leaders of the anti-Japanese society went north. They were in Vancouver when the outbreak occurred, and the announcement is made in private letters from anti-Japanese leaders that they harangued the mob not to do violence, the society itself believes the demonstration had to do with their presence. It was impossible to present a big anti-Japanese petition to Ishii here, and he refused to remain long enough for the Vancouver demonstration, Sept. 12.

There is no question whether Seattle, Portland or San Francisco agitators took part. The great bulk of the marching and moving through was composed of Canadians, and the Japanese officials ignored American participation in the telegram of protest to the Ottawa government.

FROM THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

President Roosevelt Taking Deep Interest in Taft Campaign.

WANT TO BE OVERHAULED

Mr. Roosevelt, Bonaparte and Wilson are likely to leave before next National Convention—Government Trying to Stop Out Chances and Japs.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11.—The statement that Theodore E. Burton will be a majority candidate against Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland shows that President Roosevelt has taken a deep interest in the Taft campaign for the Presidential nomination by the Republican party. Mr. Burton is an avowed supporter of William F. Parker and Dick Cheney, and wants to succeed one of them in the Senate, and the mayor of Cleveland appears to afford a satisfactory stopping stone. More than 100,000 votes in a firm supporter of Taft, and if he is victorious over Johnson it would be a considerable gain for the Taft cause.

It is not in rich in patronage it is not in the business prestige in the city of the State—Dick's presence in the Senate and Dick fight him for the nomination of party and if they win the battle, they would receive the benefit of it, it would be a considerable gain for the Taft cause. It is absolutely certain that while out in his own right he has a chance in the election.

Statement of the count of the two champions of the Taft cause, Mr. Roosevelt and Bryan, can be made up by a large majority, but with Roosevelt, who of the others looms large in the political horizon? No one can say for he alone represents the people's mind and ideal, and the people's collection. Radicals throughout the country, and the conservative men would be almost unanimous at present in favor of the two leading candidates of the popular will.

It is said that the cabinet of President Roosevelt is to be thoroughly overhauled and many changes are to be made. It is said that Mr. Roosevelt, Bonaparte and Wilson are likely to leave before the next National Convention. That is apt to be the case. That is the President's intention. Mr. Taft, he sees his own position at the helm of State and that there is more to be made in connection with the administration than in the administration. Bonaparte has had, and is likely to have, friction with the President, especially over the Alton case. It is said the President is in the immediate bath for the case in question, while Bonaparte is in greatly with that problem. Bonaparte and Wilson will probably drop out on political grounds. The issue has not undertaken to make the probable successors.

Statement of strikers for the purpose of the wires has been issued in Chicago by the Western Union Telegraph Company. The fight against the striking operators and the company with the end not yet in sight.

The Government is exerting its utmost efforts to prevent the illegal entry of Chinese and Japanese into this country. Only recently nearly one hundred Japanese were detected in an attempt to enter the country from the coast through British Columbia, and the Government is exercising the utmost vigilance to prevent their ingress. It is also reported that the Japanese are terrorizing and pillaging Alaskan towns, owing to the inadequate protection furnished by the revenue cutter fleet of the United States.

The new 20,000-ton battleship is to be named the New York, and the sister of that name, which was previously identified with the Santiago, is to be renamed the Saratoga.

tags, the vessel of the latter name having been ordered dropped from the naval list.

In many quarters it has been conjectured that the sending of the battleship fleet to the Pacific means that two fleets will eventually be created—one for the Atlantic and one for the Pacific—in other words, the immediate expansion of our navy. Such guesses, however, are set at rest by the statements at the Navy Department that the contemplated movement does not have in view either the division of the present magnificent fleet or the creation of a new one. On the contrary, however, it is deemed better to have one perfectly drilled and better controlled fleet than two separate fleets. Such a fleet, having demonstrated its mobility and effectiveness, will be speedily recalled to the Atlantic coast, where its chief duty is, and the coast cities of the United States on the Atlantic coast may, therefore, put aside their fears. No decision has as yet been reached as to how the fleet shall return to the Eastern coast.

DOCTORS PRESCRIBE SULPHUR.

But Sulphur Should Be Used in Liquid Form Only.

"Hancock's Liquid Sulphur is the most wonderful remedy for Eczema I have ever known," writes Dr. W. W. Leak of Orlando, Fla., who was cured of a case of years' standing.

Dr. W. A. Heard of Maitland, Fla., was cured of Eczema after he had suffered for thirty years, and says: "Hancock's Liquid Sulphur is the finest remedy for all skin troubles he has ever used or prescribed."

Doctors everywhere prescribe it, but they say sulphur should be used in liquid form only, as it is in Hancock's Liquid Sulphur.

Druggists sell it. Booklet free, if you write Hancock Liquid Sulphur Co., Baltimore.

It cures all skin and scalp diseases, if used in connection with the wonderful Hancock's Liquid Sulphur Ointment.

Nelson Liberal in His Bequests.

Berlin, Sept. 11.—Advises state that Alt Heckingston, the little town where Nelson Morris, the packer of Chicago, was born, will benefit by the bequests the millionaire provided for his father, who still lives at the little town. The father was a poor cattle dealer when his son left for America, but the son in his prosperity liberally provided for his parents, who spent much of the money in public improvements in Heckingston and the surrounding villages. The bequests left him by his son will largely be spent in a similar manner.

Free from Alcohol

Since May, 1906, Ayer's Sarsaparilla has been entirely free from alcohol. If you are in poor health, weak, pale, nervous, ask your doctor about taking this non-alcoholic tonic and alterative. If he has a better medicine, take his. Get the best, always. This is our advice. We have no secret. The price is 50 cents a bottle. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Drown Trouble in a Song.

I.
What to Trouble are owing?
You've got your time and chance;
Hear that fiddle goin'—
Hop in there, an' dance!
Don't let old Trouble lead you
The rocky way along;
Smile, he'll never heed you—
Drown him in a song!

II.
They are not worth the winnin'—
The shadows o' the night;
When first the world went spinnin',
The livin' word was "Light!"
So light the lamps, an' singin'
Where thick the troubles throng.
Set all the bells a-ringin'—
Drown Trouble in a song!

News from Greater Billville.

Some of our preachers of prosperity have rolled up their sleeves and gone to work.

We are now "Greater Billville," having annexed "Possum Trot and Jinks" millpond.

A daily paper is spoken of for our town. We can understand how an editor can starve once a week, but how he can be content to starve daily is beyond our comprehension.

A ten-story building will soon adorn the center of town, the vigilance committee having complained that the oak-tree limbs are too low to give convicted citizens sufficient swing.

The Safe Road.

"Politics make strange bedfellows, Br'er Williams."
"Well, what do de Bible tell you? When you see 'em comin' take up yo' bed, an' walk!"

A New Note in "Dixie."

O' Dixie lan' won't be forgotten.
Fifteen cents for the farmer's cotton;
That's right!
An' light
Is breakin' now on Dixie!

II.
O' Wall Street wakes, with a look surprisin';
Got to climb where cotton's risin';
That's right!
An' light

III.
It's a lesson plain, an' we're bound to teach it:
"Cotton's up an' you got to reach it!"
That's right!
An' light

Couldn't Cheer Him Up.

"Cheer up, man! You'll reach the rosy gardens by and by."
"But I don't like roses!"
"Well, then, you'll pull the biggest peach on the tree."
"Peaches don't agree with me!"
"Oh, well—in heaven we'll live on milk and honey."
"My friend," said the hopeless one, "that wouldn't be no change for me: I've got six bee-hives, an' four cows, givin' two gallons each day the Lord sends!"

Literary Note.

"What should I get for a novel of 70,000 words?" asked a correspondent. Well, some magazine editors would give good six months for it—if they could.

Tribulation enough in the world, but after we pull all the roses we spend the rest of our days growling at the thorns.

Rattlesnake Soup.

The Adams Enterprise tells of this strange effect of "Rattlesnake soup": "A young woman who fell in love with Bud Williams gave him rattlesnake soup to win him over, but it took different from what she 'lowed it would, for Bud made a break for the woods, crawled into a hollow tree, and stayed there till lightning hit the tree and smoked him out!"

NEWS OF CITY AND COUNTY CONDENSED

O. Petre has returned from Palatka where he has the contract for the granolithic paving of sidewalks. He reports the work progressing nicely in that city. Mr. Petre will begin the paving of East Main street in this city, for which he has the contract, as soon as the laterals in sewerage have been finished.

Fagan Bros. have purchased the grocery business of R. G. Bass, corner East Main and Union streets, and it is understood will conduct a general market and grocery business there. Mr. Bass has made quite a success of the grocery business here, but, owing to ill health, decided to sell, so that he might be out in open air employment.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Lege arrived in the city from East Lake yesterday, and are here as guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Ellis, Sr., West Liberty street. Mr. Lege, who is connected with a large commission house in the East, and who is one of the most widely known men in his line in this section of the State, has recently purchased property at East Lake, and is building a fine home.

George Gleason and son, Fred, were in the city yesterday from Rocky Point. Mr. Gleason states that he has decided to go into farming "for himself," and has leased the Thompson place, a fertile tract of nineteen acres, partly cleared. He and his family are occupying one of the Barton cottages at Rocky Point, having moved a day or two ago. Mr. Gleason is a thoroughly practical trucker, and has made a great success, especially in lettuce, which those who are in a position to know say is the hardest crop to grow successfully. He has been successful in almost every crop with which he has experimented, and his friends predict for him next year a fine prospect.

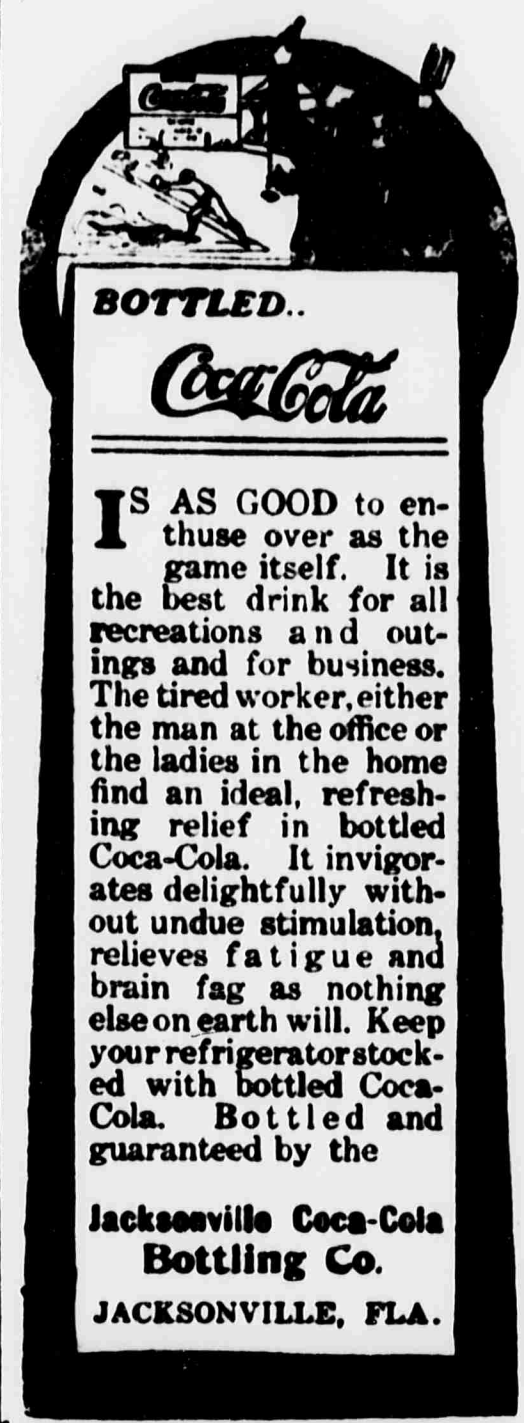

SUGAR WAS A BIG MAN

But W. R. Steckert Received Many Courtesies Due That Gentleman.

A rather amusing incident is related at the expense of W. R. Steckert of this city, who, with Arthur T. Williams, has just returned from a fishing trip on the Gulf coast and up the Suwannee river.

Mr. Steckert, who is known the whole State over for his hospitable, agreeable manner, is a fellow who loves fun, and who loves to make fun right. He never goes out on a "frolic" without plenty of everything which goes to make the occasion a success, and the moment he leaves the cares of business behind he drops them until he returns and gets into harness again.

Upon this occasion Mr. Steckert had invited his friend, Mr. Williams, to join him in a few days' fishing on the coast. By arrangement they met in Gainesville, and, having secured all the necessities of the trip and sent them ahead, they boarded the train for Cedar Key.

Arriving at the point of destination about 8:30 o'clock Mr. Steckert, carrying a heavy grip, followed by his friend and comrade, Mr. Williams, stepped from the coach, when they were greeted by a friendly:

"Why, hello, Sugar, I am so glad to see you; how have you been coming along?"

"Oh, fairly well," replied Mr. Steckert, naturally supposing that he had met one of his old friends under the pale moonlight.

"Sugar, let me carry that grip for you; I know it must be awful heavy. Come along with me now, you and your friend, and we will go up to the house."

The trio walked slowly along the pier, "Sugar's" friend chatting all the while, permitting his companions only to get in a word edgewise once in a while. When they arrived at a cigar store this obliging friend who was lugging Steckert's 125-pound grip suddenly halted.

"Boys, we must all have a smoke before we get to the house, and we will sit there and smoke and talk over old times together. Come in."

"This is a Dickens of a note," thought Mr. Steckert, as he was being coaxed all the more puzzled. "If I'm not Sugar, why who is Sugar?" he queried to himself, "but I'll see this out if it costs me trouble."

The trio went into the store, approaching the cigar case and ordered the cigars. "Sugar, my boy, what brand do you smoke?"

"See here," good-naturedly replied Mr. Steckert, while Mr. Williams looked on in amazement, not knowing "what was which" at this stage of the program. "what do you mean by calling me 'Sugar'? I never was in my life sweet enough for even the folks at home to apply that reference to me."

"Well, by Jove, the joke is up to me," replied the stranger in astonishment. "I was looking for a friend of mine named Sugar tonight, and if you aren't the living image of Sugar, I'll eat my hat. At any rate, the joke is on me, so have the best cigar in the house."

The gentlemen lit their cigars, had a good laugh, subjected themselves to an informal introduction, when the "victim" of the joke excused himself and hied away to find Sugar, whom he felt sure was on the same train.

It has not been learned whether Mr. Sugar ever arrived in Cedar Key, as nothing more was heard from his friend.

Grahams Return to Hot Springs.

A letter has been received from Mrs. J. M. Graham, Hot Springs, N. C., to the effect that, after a pleasant visit to other points, they have returned to Hot Springs, where they are again pleasantly located at the Mountain Inn Hotel. Mrs. Graham directs that The Sun be forwarded to that address.

"We have enjoyed a most lovely summer, and we are both well and have been benefited," she says. "But we will be glad to get back home and among our old friends again. There is no place like home, as the old song goes."

Mrs. Graham states that herself and husband expect to arrive home about October 1. Their friends here will be glad to greet them again.

Mr. Dow is Better.

A card has been received from Mrs. W. E. Dow, Greenwood, S. C., bearing information that Mr. Dow is a great deal better, and that he is now enabled to get around with the aid of a cane with comparative ease.

This will be gratifying information to the friends in this section of Mr. Dow, who have felt anxiously for his recovery to his normal health.

Mrs. Dow states that W. E. Jr., is making quite a "hit" in Greenwood, and that he is the pet of the town.

Mr. and Mrs. Dow have gone to Abbeville, S. C., where they expect to remain until October 1, when they will return home.

Good Progress on Well.

Superintendent B. F. Miller of the waterworks stated yesterday that Contractor Allen, who is drilling the deep well at the waterworks plant, has reached a depth of 160 feet, and that work is progressing nicely on the well.

This well, when completed, is expected to be a prolific producer, and it is hoped that it will serve to supply the deficiency of the supply which has been felt for the past few months.

Horse Stunned by Lightning.

W. F. Grissom was in the city from Rochelle yesterday. Mr. Grissom had quite an experience a few days ago, when he was driving. The lightning struck so near his team that his horse was knocked down, and he was also stunned. The horse appeared to be very badly affected, and it required an hour or more to restore it to consciousness, but the animal seems to be all right now, save a few scars about the limbs.

IN THE MATTER OF PENSIONS.

General E. M. Law, editor of The Bartow Courier-Informant, has the following to say regarding the recent rulings of the State Board of Pensions:

"A ruling of the State Board of Pensions at its meeting on last Thursday is of much importance to veterans who have applied, or who intend to apply, for pensions under the act of the last Legislature which provides that the certificate of the Adjutant of the U. C. V. camp to which the applicant belongs shall be sufficient proof of service.

"The Board of Pensions has very properly ruled that the mere certificate of the Adjutant is not sufficient, and all applications where this mere formal certificate has been relied on have been returned. On this point the Board speaks in the following clear and decided terms:

"The board construes the spirit of the law to require unquestionable proof that the applicant performed faithful service to the Confederacy and that he did not desert. Such proof can only be made by the statements of persons who know of their own knowledge of the service or from official documents and records. The board has ordered the return to the clerk of the courts of applications filed under the Act of 1907, in which proof of service was made by the certificate of adjutant, for amendment to conform with the enclosed form."

"The form referred to requires the Adjutant to make oath that he knows of his own knowledge and by documentary proof submitted to the camp on application for membership that the said applicant was a soldier or sailor in the service of the Confederate States during the war between the States and did not desert the same and that he is a member in good standing in camp No. — of United Confederate Veterans."

"The board further rules that 'in all cases where the Adjutant cannot conscientiously make this certificate the board will require the applicant to submit the affidavit of two comrades or of a commissioned officer. The Adjutant should have knowledge or proof of applicant's service from enlistment to honorable discharge.'

"Every veteran should acquiesce cheerfully in this action of the Pension Board. While it may exclude some worthy veterans who are unable to make the required proof of service, it will exclude many who did no service, were never in the Confederate army or navy, and some deserters. The main question to be answered in the granting of any pension by the State should be: was the applicant actually in the service and was he true to his colors to the end?"

A great many persons and a great many cities want something Federal. The persons want postoffices, judge-ships, receiverships, and other offices. The cities usually want public buildings, harbor improvements, etc. Now comes Butte, Montana, with a new Federal idea. It wants a Federal lawn. Some day we shall have people crying for a Federal backyard, or a Federal kitchen garden. There is no end to this longing for something at the expense of Uncle Sam. And therein lies President Roosevelt's power, not in his statesmanship.

The enforcers of the pure food laws need to get busy: whiskey is said to be going into Georgia—in anticipation of 1908 demands—labeled "Paint."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

REPUBLICAN BLUFF.

The Republicans cannot forgive Oklahoma that her voters gave a Democratic majority, and Secretary Taft advises the voting down of the constitution, mainly on the avowed ground that the wicked Democrats have gerrymandered the new State. With every political close State in the Union a monument to Republican gerrymanders it is hardly seemly for Taft to cast the first stone, even if the Democrats have somewhat favored their own side. The people of Oklahoma must, however, remember that a Republican Congress will be rather slow in giving them another opportunity for Statehood, and whether it is not better to flee in the hills they know exist under a Republican territorial government to the apocryphal hills the Republican politicians assure them will come under Democratic government. One would think, to hear these Republicans talk, that the Democrats will, when in power, try to ruin their own property and create a Democratic desert out of a Republican rose garden.

LUNGS THAT ARE STARVED.

It is a fact that most of us are victims of our own lazy respiration and deprive ourselves of oxygen that is so necessary if we would keep our bodies at their highest point of efficiency, says The Delineator for September.

Oxygen is absolutely necessary to the existence of animal life. Man gets oxygen from air breathed into his lungs.

Besides introducing oxygen into the blood, the lungs act as excretory organs, removing undesirable elements from the system at each expiration.

In ordinary or unconscious breathing, only ten to thirteen per cent of the air in the lungs is changed at each breath, leaving eighty to ninety per cent of the lung capacity filled with stale air.

Forced or conscious breathing of pure air ventilates the lungs, driving out the eighty to ninety per cent of stationary or stale air.

All bedroom windows and doors should be wide open during sleep, thus connecting the lungs directly with the pure air of the outside world.

Because a man is in a happy mood is no badge of sainthood. A fellow can be happy when he has done no wrong; and, again, a fellow can be because he wasn't caught in the act.

ORANGES WELL ADVANCED.

Florida Crop From First Bloom Will Be Light, However.

A recent dispatch to The New York Packer from Cincinnati, Ohio, says: "James A. Baird, of Alexander & Baird, orange packers and shippers at Beresford and other points in Florida, was here this week. He says oranges in Florida are well advanced for this season of the year, and promise to be of good quality. However, the crop will be very short. His firm estimates that this season's crop will be about 60 per cent of last year's. Forty per cent of the crop is of the first bloom and will come off before the first of January. They figure that there will be hardly enough oranges to supply the trade from the first bloom until January 1, and they estimate the total crop will not run more than 3,000,000 boxes. Mr. Alexander recently returned to Beresford from a six weeks' trip through the orange section, and has contracted considerable fruit. They have secured a mature crop of oranges on Alligator creek in the vicinity of Punta Gorda, which is in the southern portion of DeSoto county, and will start to packing about September 25. The firm will handle the fruit from all the irrigated groves about Wauchula except one or two. They have a packing house at this point. These groves, like all other groves that had rain, will have a full crop from the first bloom. He says there is nearly a full crop in the vicinity of Arcadia, as this strip of land was favored with rain during the drought.

"Last year there were 1,000,000 boxes of grapefruit and tangerines shipped from Florida, and it is estimated the total amount this season will hardly be over one-half that quantity. DeLand and Beresford are considered among the most important grapefruit and tangerine points in the State.

"This firm last year shipped 75,000 boxes and expects to handle as many this year. They have been in business a great many years and have a big line of regular customers to supply; in fact, most of the early crop has already been sold. They have a few cars to be disposed of besides the regular run after the latter part of the month.

"In answering the question as to what is being done in the way of securing a lower freight rate and better railroad service in Florida, Mr. Baird said: 'It will be an uphill fight for the association, which was recently organized, to bring about a reform. We want better service and are believers in good service and are willing to pay for it if the railroad companies would improve their roadbeds and get better equipment.'

"We are willing to pay the same rate, but it seems the service gets worse every year. If the Legislature would pay more attention to forcing the railroads to give better service instead of wasting time in efforts to secure reduction of rates it would be much better for the shippers, railroads and all concerned."

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a book of Swamp-Root pamphlets telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonials received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be hurried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from a heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or over-busy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up the treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, and the doctor, the wrong treatment, but probably worse, a proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down, debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus' dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

SERMONETTES

BY J. MARVIN NICHOLS.

Many a fellow's head amounts to no more than a convenient peg on which to hang the hat bought on the old man's credit.

Stanford White was the incarnation of a subtle principle that threads its way through all the affairs of this frenzied age. He defied cold, unchilled marble and damned innocent human flesh.

In some remote age travel may broaden a man. In this present age of palace cars, palatial ocean-steampers, and taverns whose waiters draw princely salaries (out of your pocket) travel has a tendency to flatten a fellow.

On the far-Western Arizona hills I have seen wild Indian ponies stand majestically on a crest—neck arched, eyes rolling, mane to the breezes, nostrils all aquiver. And even a man sometimes feels power tugging at his heart.

Money, as the unit of measure in character, has its limitations. Mr. Bryan declares in The Commoner that Washington was the richest American of his time, and Mr. Rockefeller is the richest American of his time. Right here, however, the parallel ceases.

NEWBERRY PERSONALS.

Newberry, Sept. 11.—Miss Ada Pierce left Tuesday for Live Oak, where she will spend a week with relatives.

Mrs. George Dunbaun and son, Carroll, of Muscatine, Ia., are here, guests of the former's sister, Mrs. E. A. Groff.

Miss Lizzie Hamilton of Jonesville is here for a few days, a guest of her sister, Mrs. John Fortson.

Mrs. George Livingston, accompanied by Master Fred Myers, left Monday morning for Georgia, where they will spend several weeks visiting friends and relatives.

Misses Maud Lewis and Minnie Lee spent Monday here, guests of Mrs. D. G. Roland.

W. G. Chapman visited Worthington Sunday, returning Monday night. Mrs. C. O. Green and sister, Miss Clem Pickett, of Jonesville, were here shopping and visiting friends Friday. Mrs. Newlan of Archer is here on a visit to her brother, Dr. S. A. Hussey.

Mrs. J. F. Ruff and little son, Spencer, have returned home after a several weeks' visit to Pensacola.

Percy Getzen of Fort White is here on a visit to his brother, Dr. S. P. Getzen.

A CLEVER POEM.

Forest Kelley Tells a Thing or Two About Men and Old Shoes.

Forest Kelley, the clever young son of Dr. J. L. Kelley, who is assisting his father in the office of County Superintendent of Public Instruction, occasionally has a few moments to spare, which he devotes to literature of his own composition, and this is his last effort, which is very good:

Man and His Shoes.

How much a man is like his shoes—For instance, both a sole may lose; Both have been tanned; both are made tight.

By cobblers; both get left and right; Both need a mate to be complete. And both are made to go on feet. They both need healing, oft are sold. And both, in time, will turn to mould. With shoes, the last is first. And with man, the first shall be the last.

When shoes wear out they are mended new;

When men wear out, they are men dead, too.

They both are trod upon, nothing loath;

Both have their ties, and both incline. When polished, in the world to shine.

Rheumatism.

When pains or irritation exist on any part of the body, the application of Ballard's Snow Liniment gives prompt relief. E. W. Sullivan, Prop. Sullivan House, El Reno, O. T., writes, June 6, 1902: "I take pleasure in recommending Ballard's Snow Liniment to all who are afflicted with rheumatism. It is the only remedy I have found that gives immediate relief." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

A Record Number.

New York, Sept. 11.—More than 1,100 persons applied for first citizenship papers in the naturalization bureau of the United States court Monday, a record breaker. Just what caused this unheard of rush was matter for much speculation about the federal building. Many of the applicants were Russian Jews and the fact that Monday was a Jewish holiday may have something to do with it. However, all of the crowd of 1,100 were not Jews. All nationalities were represented.

Wreck of Treasure Ship Found.

Dunkirk, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Gus Ormsby, a fisherman, while lifting his nets off Huron Point in Lake Erie, discovered the wreck of the propeller of the Richmond, which was lost in a storm with all on board during a gale in November, 1903. The Richmond has a cargo of copper ore valued at $200,000, and vain attempts have been made by the underwriters and private enterprise to locate the treasure ship.

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpicide Is in Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do the work which it is intended to do. Many hair restorers may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate the scalp and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newberry Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS.

NOTICE OF INCORPORATION.

Notice is hereby given that on the tenth day of October, A. D. 1907, we, the undersigned subscribing incorporators, intend to apply to the Governor of the State of Florida at Tallahassee, for Letters Patent incorporating THE GAINESVILLE BOTTLING WORKS, with and upon the following proposed charter and articles of incorporation:

J. B. BROOKS.
C. E. SCARBOROUGH.
M. N. BROOKS.

Articles of Incorporation of The Gainesville Bottling Works.

Article I—The name of this corporation shall be THE GAINESVILLE BOTTLING WORKS, and its principal place of business shall be in the City of Gainesville, in Alachua County, Florida.

Article II—The general nature of the business to be transacted by said corporation shall be to build, operate and own bottling works, and to manufacture and bottle soda water and all kinds of mineral waters; to buy, manufacture, sell or otherwise deal in soda water apparatus, and all kinds of soda fountain supplies and fixtures; to engage in the manufacture of metal and wood delivery and shipping cases of all kinds, and to deal in all other commodities and articles of trade and merchandise throughout the State of Florida, and all other States of the United States of America; and to travel its traveling men and mercantile agents throughout the United States for the sale of the product of the said corporation, and of all said commodities to the trade, and to establish branch works, manufactories, houses and agencies in or throughout said States, as its board of directors shall from time to time decide upon; and to adopt all the means proper, expedient or necessary for the conduct of such business, and to have, exercise and enjoy all rights, powers and privileges of corporations, organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Florida.

Article III—The amount of the capital stock authorized hereunder is Ten Thousand ($10,000) Dollars, to be divided into one hundred (100) shares of the value of one hundred ($100) dollars each, to be paid in as follows: Fifty (50) per cent thereof in property, machinery, labor, etc., and the balance in cash, property, machinery or labor as called for by the board of directors of said corporation.

Article III—The term for which said corporation shall exist shall be ninety-nine (99) years.

Article V—The business of said corporation is to be conducted by a president, who shall also be the treasurer thereof, and by a secretary, who shall also be the auditor thereof; and by a board of three (3) directors, all of said officers to be elected on the fifteenth day of October, A. D. 1907, and thereafter on the first Monday in January of each succeeding year, and the names of the officers who are to conduct the business until those elected at the first election shall be qualified are J. B. Brooks, as president, acting also as treasurer; C. E. Scarborough, as secretary, acting also as auditor, and J. B. Brooks, C. E. Scarborough and M. N. Brooks, as the board of directors.

Article VI—The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation can at any one time subject itself is Five Thousand ($5,000) Dollars.

Article VII—The name and residences of the subscribing incorporators, together with the number of shares of stock subscribed by each, are as follows:

J. B. Brooks, Gainesville, Florida, Seventy (70) shares.

C. E. Scarborough, Gainesville, Florida, Six (6) shares.

M. N. Brooks, Gainesville, Florida, Four (4) shares.

State of Florida,) Alachua County,)

Before me personally appeared J. B. Brooks, C. E. Scarborough and M. N. Brooks, to me well known, and known to me to be the individuals described in and who subscribed and executed the foregoing articles of incorporation as incorporators, and severally acknowledged to and before me that they executed the same for the uses and purposes therein set forth and expressed.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Gainesville, Florida, this fifth day of September, A. D. 1907.

(Seal) FERDINAND BAYER,
Notary Public State of Florida at Large. My commission expires May 15th, A. D. 1911.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR TAX DEED UNDER SECTION 8 OF CHAPTER 488, LAWS OF FLORIDA.

Notice is hereby given that J. W. McCall, purchaser of Tax Certificates No. 16 and 29, dated the 6th day of July, A. D. 1905, has filed said certificates in my office, and has made application for tax deed to issue in accordance with law. Said certificates embrace the following described property situated in the Town of High Springs, Alachua County, Florida, to-wit:

Lots 3 and 4, Block G, Fitch & Clayton's Addition. And again, commencing 108 feet from the N and S line of the West corner of Bruce Smith's lot, 100 W 1/4 feet, thence due N 30 feet, thence E 30 feet, thence S 210 feet to place of beginning, in the S 1/4 of Sec. 3, T. 8, N. 17 E.

The said land being assessed at the date of the issuance of such certificates in the names of David Dunn and H. C. Odum.

Unless said certificates shall be redeemed according to law, tax deed will issue thereon on the 24th day of September, A. D. 1907.

Witness my official signature and seal this 17th day of August, A. D. 1907.

Who Pays For Your Printing?

Poor printing is a detriment to any business, and is an unprofitable investment. Poor printing is usually paid for twice—once when you settle with the printer, and again in the injury it does your business.

GOOD PRINTING PAYS FOR ITSELF!

In the added business it brings, in the complete satisfaction you feel in sending out neat, tasty stationery, and its first cost is soon on the credit side of the ledger. Good printing is remembered long after the price is forgotten.

HAZED BY FLAMES

A Mill Hand Was Put Through Frightful Torture.

HELD OVER BLAST FURNACE

Flesh Was Shrivelled and His Clothing Charred—It is Said There is Still Hope of the Unfortunate Man's Recovery.

Washington, Pa., Sept. 11.—Henry Perry, a mill worker of Wheeling, W. Va., is said to be dying from a hazing administered by fifty employees of the Tyler Tube and Pipe company. Burned and beaten, there is little hope for his recovery. The Tyler company steel workers have a custom of initiating new employees. At the midday lunch hour, Perry was seized by a couple of powerful mill men that he might be put through the "degree." Perry fought and with iron pipes warded off his tormentors until overpowered. He was fastened to a hook of a big iron crane and swung above the fire of a big blast furnace. Finally, the cords were burned through and Perry's unconscious form dropped to the floor right in front of the furnace, where his flesh shrivelled and his clothing charred.

STORM VISITS CHATTANOOGA.

Wind Reached a Velocity of 50 Miles an Hour.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 11.—During a severe windstorm, which swept over the city Monday afternoon, when the wind reached a velocity of 50 miles an hour, several accidents occurred which were of more than ordinary interest, owing to their unusual character.

On McCallie avenue, the principal thoroughfare of the city, an automobile containing two ladies was blown out of the street onto the sidewalk, the ladies thrown out, and the machine damaged against a tree. The party in the automobile were coming into the city at a rapid rate to get out of the storm, the machine going at about 25 miles an hour.

It was going directly in the face of the wind, and just as it turned, a terrific gust of wind blew the machine completely around, running it into a bank and tree before being stopped. The ladies were thrown out and more or less severely shaken up, besides sustaining a number of painful cuts about the face and the hands.

On Missionary ridge, above the city, the wind reached a velocity much greater than in the city. While an automobile containing James Howe, a prominent merchant, was going along the Crest road, on the ridge, the wind blew him out of the machine against an embankment, severely injuring him.

CIGARETTE FIRES.

They Cost the City of New York About $2,500,000 Yearly.

New York, Sept. 11.—A yearly chart has just been completed covering 6,357 fires in Manhattan and the Bronx and calling attention to some interesting facts. It is estimated that fires started by carelessly dropped matches and cigarettes cause New York city a loss of about $2,500,000 each year.

The city has an average of over 25 fires every day, and fire losses in 12 months from all causes aggregate something like $10,000,000. Every time an alarm comes in, no matter whether it is false or not, the cost to the city is $50 for wear and tear of the fire apparatus. The city also pays out something like $500,000 for damage done to asphalt pavements by children's bonfires in the streets.

Convenes in Ottawa.

Lima, Ohio, Sept. 11.—The fifteenth annual convention of the Catholic Knights of Ohio will be opened in Ottawa next Tuesday with an address by St. Rev. Ignatius Horstman, of Cleveland. Mayor T. S. Mallory will make the welcoming address.

WOMAN WEIGHS 525 POUNDS.

Remarkable Case of Elephantiasis is Reported from Brooklyn.

New York, Sept. 11.—Physicians at the Kings county hospital, Brooklyn, have there a remarkable case of that rare disease elephantiasis.

The patient is Mrs. Juliette Felt, of Brooklyn, widow, 63 years old. Before she was attacked by the disease she weighed 149 pounds. She now weighs 525 pounds and is gaining daily in size. Her skin is thick, hard and coarse, like an elephant's.

The disease first manifested itself seven years ago. It began with an itching in one of her legs. This then ceased in a short while, but it was followed by a swelling of that limb, accompanied by pain. Then the trouble on weight rapidly.

The body, arms and legs, have been affected, but not her face. She thought herself growing fat from natural causes, but could not account for the pain which attended her increase in bulk. Two years ago she found she weighed 350 pounds, and then in alarm she resorted to medicines, and dieting, but these measures were of no avail.

A week ago a physician diagnosed her trouble as elephantiasis. An idea of the effect of the disease may be had from the fact that each of her legs is as large in circumference as the body of a well-developed man.

The doctors do not yet know whether she will recover.

MYSTERIOUS CAVE.

"Purgatory" Cavern Attracting the Attention of Scientists.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 11.—"Purgatory," a cave only a few miles from this city, many of whose mysterious by-paths have yet to be explored, is now attracting the attention of scientists all over New England, because of the failure of Miss Lucia S. Thompson of Boston, a well known mountain climber, to penetrate the cavern. Miss Thompson found herself unable to proceed much beyond the entrance to the cavern, as it was icebound.

No one has yet had the courage to penetrate the furthest depths of the cave, and such an attempt is admittedly fraught with danger, for at its bottom is an unexplored subterranean lake or river. There are scarcely three months in the year in which it is possible to enter the cave.

Miss Annie Peck, whose feats of mountain climbing have given her fame, will try to explore the cavern.

MARRIES GREEK POET.

Pictureque Wedding Occurs at Bar Harbor, Maine.

Bar Harbor, Me., Sept. 11.—Miss Eva Courtlandt Palmer, of New York, was married Monday at Brookend, the cottage of her mother, Mrs. Robert Abbe, to Angelo Sikelianis, a Greek poet.

The wedding was made picturesque by the costume of the bride, who, though an American girl, wore a classic Greek tunic of purple and white and jeweled sandals beneath bare feet, while her hair, which reached to the floor, was loosely braided and crowned with a Greek fillet. This is a costume she has adopted for permanent use, believing it to be the most healthful.

The bridegroom also appeared in a native costume. The couple will go to Greece to live after the honeymoon.

Van Marter Dies in Bolivia.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 11.—Dr. J. A. Van Marter, formerly of Savannah, died in South America about two weeks ago. He was with a commission appointed by the Bolivian government to establish the boundary between Bolivia and Brazil. The news of his death was received by his family through the state department. Dr. Van Marter was 37 years of age, and was born in Switzerland. He married Miss W. H. Calkins in 1903, in Tacoma, Wash.

Contract for New Mill.

Wedowee, Ala., Sept. 11.—A contract for the erection of the new mills of the Wedowee Oil Mills company has been let to F. O. Randall, of Talladega, and the plant will be ready for the fall crop of cotton.

KILLED BY A BURGLAR

Brave Woman Defending Home Is Shot to Death.

BULLET SENT TO HER HEART

Wife of Lieutenant Frank Rorschach, U. S. N., Murdered in Her Home Near Portsmouth, Va., by Man Who Was Plundering Her Home.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 11.—Mrs. Mary Lawless Rorschach, wife of Lieutenant Frank Rorschach, U. S. N., and sister of Joseph T. Lawless, former secretary of the commonwealth of Virginia, was murdered in her home, at Portsmouth, in the suburb of Park View, by an unknown burglar early Tuesday morning.

She was shot through the heart with her own pistol taken from her hand by the burglar after she had fired twice upon him through an open door leading into the kitchen where she was cornered.

Shot Awakened Boy.

The pistol shots awakened the oldest boy, Frank, Jr., and the mother cried to the boy upstairs:

"Frank, somebody has taken my pistol from me and shot me. Go quickly for help."

The boy rushed for help, but when he returned with neighbors his mother was dead. An effort was made to inform Lieutenant Rorschach by wireless of the tragedy.

The Rorschach home is immediately in the rear of the naval hospital woods in Portsmouth, and near a lumber mill, which negroes frequently pass. A newsboy who lives near the home saw a negro shortly after the tragedy running rapidly by his home towards the small foot bridge whence the bloodhounds went when they took the scent. The negro was taking off his coat.

While Mrs. Rorschach had a lamp in her hand the burglar was in the kitchen in the dark. He evidently heard the man and fired in the direction. But bullets fired by the woman were found in the wall of the kitchen.

Pistol Placed to Her Breast.

Mrs. Rorschach with her money tied in a roll and hanging around her neck, had run down stairs by the back steps; she was found lying with her head on the second step. The pistol had been placed close to her left breast over her night dress and discharged. It was a five shooter and only three chambers were empty. Of these, two were fired by Mrs. Rorschach and one fired by the burglar. Her money and jewelry were unharmed.

The victim's youngest child, Lawless, slept through the excitement. Mrs. Rorschach was a handsome woman about 36 years old, and one of the most accomplished musicians in the state of Virginia.

Lieutenant Rorschach was formerly of Kansas, but was appointed to the navy from Virginia.

Whether the murderer was a negro or a white man is unknown. He escaped, dropping the pistol as he fled from the house.

Bloodhounds carried to the house from the Portsmouth jail secured a scent and ran from the house. This was soon lost, however, and the dogs have since been unable to pick up the trail.

Mrs. Rorschach, whose fearlessness was well known, was living with her children, aged 7 and 5. Her husband, Lieutenant Rorschach, formerly of the United States battleship Kentucky, but more recently promoted and transferred to the United States cruiser Tennessee, now with Admiral Evans' fleet off Provincetown, Mass., on target practice, was absent.

Glass Blowers on Strike.

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 11.—The glassblowers employed at the Hessler bottle works here went out on a strike Monday for higher wages. The plant employed nearly three hundred men and had been operated only six days after a shutdown of a several months.

DEATH OF COLONEL SHUMATE.

Prominent Attorney of Dalton, Ga., Has Passed Away.

Dalton, Ga., Sept. 11.—At his home here Monday afternoon, Colonel I. B. Shumate, a prominent lawyer of the state, surrendered his spirit and passed to the great beyond.

Colonel Shumate's illness had been brief, dating only from Thursday, when he was suddenly stricken with complete paralysis in the whole left side of his body. He recovered somewhat Friday, and was even more improved Saturday and Sunday, regaining almost entire control of his faculties.

Monday night he was again attacked, and soon passed away.

At the time of his death Colonel Shumate was 73 years of age. He was widely and favorably known in legal circles of the state, having practiced before the courts of a number of its counties and before the supreme bar. He was counsel for the Southern railway at Dalton.

The deceased lawyer was as prominently identified with religious interests as he was with the bar. He was regularly in attendance upon Methodist conferences of the state, and to not known to have missed more than one or two of those gatherings since his early manhood.

Colonel Shumate is survived by his wife and six children.

PANIC IN CROWDED ROOM.

Husband Tries to Kill Wife from Whom He Was Separated.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11.—Falling in an attempt to effect a reconciliation with his wife, from whom he had been separated, Wm. B. Herbert Monday night fired five shots into a crowded room where his wife was seated, slightly wounding her sister, Mrs. George W. Northy. Several others in the room narrowly escaped being hit by the flying bullets.

With one remaining cartridge in his pistol, Herbert turned the weapon upon himself and sent a bullet into his left breast just below the heart. He is not expected to live.

But for the presence of mind of Mrs. Herbert she undoubtedly would have been killed. Seeing the revolver pointed at her, she grasped one of her young children and threw herself prone on the floor. The shot missed her. She then crawled toward a door, and a second shot passed over her, striking Mrs. Northy in the arm. A third shot grazed Mrs. Herbert's cheek.

Stowaway Swam to Liberty.

New York, Sept. 11.—A Portuguese stowaway aboard the steamer Glencan, just in from Havana, was put to work at the beginning of the trip and was told that at the end he would be sent back to Europe. When the lights of the New Jersey shore were in sight on Saturday night the Portuguese decided that he would swim the rest of the way to America. He was not missed from the ship until she dropped anchor off Sandy Hook. A rope was soon dangling over the stern and a life buoy had been cut away. Captain Gillings informed that the stowaway had taken the buoy, with him to assist in his efforts to reach the Jersey shore.

Child Meets Awful Death.

Cedartown, Ga., Sept. 11.—A terrible accident occurred late Saturday evening at the home of Mr. Frank Bellinger, about four miles south of the city, by which his little thirteen-year-old daughter, Lucy, lost her life by being burned to death in a bowl of hot grease. The mother was cooking supper and had just placed the vessel on the table near the child. Suddenly the cry of the little girl showed that she had turned over the bowl and spilled the contents on her face and neck and body. Medical aid failed to relieve the little sufferer, and death claimed the victim later in the night.

Will Resume Operations.

Barboarville, Ky., Sept. 11.—The strike in this district was practically broken when the Matthews-Copel Co. resumed operations at its big Warren properties with imported miners. The strike was called last month, and operations were suspended.

R. C. DUNN WILL BE A CANDIDATE

Secretary Railroad Commission
Aspires to Higher Job.

COMMISSIONER MORGAN'S SHOES

Mr. Dunn Thinks They Will About Fit Him, and Admits That He Would Feel Mighty Comfortable in Them. Will Make Strong Campaign.

"I will be a candidate for railroad commissioner."

Among the prominent visitors to this city is R. C. Dunn of Tallahassee, secretary of the Florida Railroad Commission, who is en route to Astatula on a brief visit to his mother, Mrs. O. J. Dunn.

While it has been conceded that Mr. Dunn would be a candidate for railroad commissioner to succeed Commissioner Morgan, who declines to again enter the race, Monday was the first time that gentleman has ever frankly stated from his own lips to any newspaper representative the fact, when he made this assertion to The Sun reporter in direct answer to the question of his candidacy.

"Yes, I will be a candidate for railroad commissioner to succeed Commissioner Morgan, who declines to again become a candidate," he said. "With the exception of Mr. Morgan, I am now the oldest man at point of service on the Commission, and I now ask the suffrage of the people of Florida. Without any spirit of conceit, I can say with impunity that, on account of my six years' connection with the Commission as its secretary, I am perfectly capable of handling the affairs of the people of my State, and if elected I promise to protect their rights and their interests to the letter."

Mr. Dunn spent the day Monday in meeting the county officials and other prominent citizens of the city, and made a good impression.

Will Make This Home.

Mr. Hager and family of Baltimore have arrived in the city, and will make this their future home.

Mr. Hager has read a great deal about Florida, being interested because of the fact that he proposed to move to the State, and after a careful consideration selected Gainesville as being the most moral and most up-to-date interior city in Florida, with the result that he is here with his family. He did not wait to come personally and investigate the situation, but friends had assured him that the city and its people were all that could be desired, hence he brought his family with him.

Mr. Hager has leased the Roberts place in North Gainesville, where the family are now pleasantly located. They will be gladly welcomed, and it is hoped they will not be disappointed here.

Mrs. W. L. Roberts, who has been residing with her husband here for the past two years, will go to Miami. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts have made most desirable residents, and have added a great deal to the social life of North Gainesville and the city proper, both being people of exceptional literary and musical ability. While their friends here will miss them very much, they will wish them much happiness and health in their new home on the East Coast.

ROGERS FAMILY HOME.

Arrive Safely Monday Evening—Dr. Rogers' Condition Improved.

After an absence of several weeks from the city, Rev. S. B. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist church, and one of the most generally beloved ministers in the city, with his family, are at home again.

Dr. Rogers has been in wretched health for the past year, and a great part of the time has suffered untold agony. His congregation, realizing his condition, granted him a six-weeks' leave of absence. During that time he entered a sanitarium at Atlanta, where a surgical operation was performed, and friends will be glad to learn that he is now on the road to recovery.

Dr. Rogers and family arrived via the Tampa and Jacksonville Monday evening, and were met at the station by a number of friends. From the station they were driven to the parsonage, 103 S. Roper avenue, where other friends had opened up the home and prepared a fine supper for the home-comers. It was a pleasant meeting, the coming together again of the preacher and his family, and after supper had been partaken of the remainder of the evening was passed in pleasant conversation.

Friends of Dr. Rogers in this city, regardless of denomination, feel very grateful of his recovery, as for a time his condition was quite serious, and grave doubts for his recovery were entertained. However, he is gaining strength every day, and declares he will be in position to assume active charge of his duties as pastor in a short time.

FIRST DISTRICT CONVENTION.

Was Held Here With Center Lodge, I. O. O. F., and Was Big Success.

The first district convention of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, which is a newly created feature in that order, was held with Center Lodge No. 11 in this city Monday evening, and was largely attended.

This is the seventh district, of which Robert McClellan, a well-known Odd Fellow, is the district deputy grand master. The district is composed of the lodges of Gainesville, High Springs, LaCrosse, Newberry and Bell, all of which are lodges of prominence in the State.

There were present at this convention representatives from all lodges, with the exception of Newberry, and the meeting in all was a great success.

During the evening work in the initiatory and second degrees was conducted by the teams of Center Lodge in most impressive manner. This team is in excellent condition, and the work will be remembered very vividly by the visitors.

At the conclusion of the lodge ceremonies the assemblage were invited to the banquet room, where elegant refreshments of cream and cake were served in abundance. M. B. Saunders had charge of this department, which was an assurance that everything was up-to-date.

D. D. G. M. McClellan has not announced where the next convention will be held.

Wedding at Rex of Two Well-Known Young People Sunday Noon.

There was a wedding of more than passing interest at Rex at noon Sunday, the contracting parties being L. M. McCormick, the popular manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company in this city, and Miss Nannie McIntosh, Rev. T. H. Sistrunk of Melrose officiating.

The wedding was a quiet home affair, only the immediate family of the bride and a few intimate friends being present.

The groom is one of the most widely known young men of the city, having been reared here. In connection with the management of the local Western Union office, he conducts the Continental Cafe and soda water stand, at which he has made quite a success.

The bride is also well known and popular here. She has been for some time engaged in the profession of school teaching, having been for two or three years a member of the faculty of the Gainesville Graded and High School, where she was very popular.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormick boarded the train shortly after their marriage for Gainesville, arriving here Sunday evening. They will make their home at 402 West Main street S.

The numerous friends of the happy couple extend heartiest congratulations, with best wishes for a life of uninterrupted happiness and prosperity.

MR. STEENBURG MARRIED.

Was Wedded to Miss Margaret Healey in Hagerstown, Md.

Information reached this city Monday to the effect that A. O. Steenburg, one of the city's most widely known and most progressive citizens, especially in real estate matters, has for the second time in his life become a benedict, having been wedded two or three days recently to Miss Margaret I. Healey, daughter of Mrs. Catherine A. Healey, at her home in Hagerstown, Md.

The information of the marriage came as a mild surprise to friends of the contracting parties here. While it was known that Mr. Steenburg and Miss Healey were good friends, nothing was thought of their matrimonial intentions.

Mr. Steenburg has resided here for many years, and is one of the most widely known men in this section. He is a member of the firm of Patterson & Steenburg, real estate.

The bride is also well known and popular here, having spent last year as a milliner at the store of The G. W. Hyde Company. She made many friends who will be pleased to greet her again as Mrs. Steenburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Steenburg expect to arrive in the city in a few days, and will make their home here.

Friends extend congratulations.

RELATED TRUST PROSECUTION.

The petition of the Government of the United States in the case of the American Tobacco Company and others covers 135 printed pages, forming one of the most interesting volumes ever prepared by the Department of Justice. Sixty-five corporations, great and small, are made defendants, and are charged with violating the anti-trust law of July 2, 1890. The history of the tobacco trade is fully discussed and the articles of incorporation and agreements in restraint of trade, made by the defendants, are set forth at length. Besides the usual prayers for general relief and for subpoenas, there are eight special prayers, of which the most important are the second and fifth, which are as follows:

"That the agreements, contracts, combinations, and conspiracies entered into by the defendants on or about September 2nd, 1902, and thereafter, be declared illegal, and that injunctions issue restraining and prohibiting defendants from doing anything in pursuance or in furtherance of the same within the jurisdiction of the United States."

"That the court adjudge the American Tobacco Company, the American Cigar Company, the American Stogie Company, the MacAndrews & Forbes Company, and the Conley Puff Company each a combination, in restraint of interstate and foreign trade and commerce; and that each has attempted and is attempting to monopolize the trade and commerce among the several States and with foreign nations; and order and decree that each one of them be restrained from engaging in interstate or foreign commerce, or if the court should be of opinion that the public interests will be better subserved thereby, that receivers be appointed to take possession of all the property, assets, business and affairs of said defendants and wind up the same, and otherwise take such course in regard thereto as will bring about conditions in trade and commerce among the States and with foreign nations in harmony with law."

As there is no law authorizing the appointment of a receiver in such case, it is difficult to perceive how the courts will be able to grant that portion of this prayer which relates to such an appointment. Nor is it easy to see why this prosecution has been delayed until the present time, since the main facts in the case have been known for years, and were set forth in the Democratic campaign book of 1902.

NEGRO PREACHER'S APPEAL.

While the Georgia State prohibition bill was before the Legislative Committee, Rev. H. H. Proctor, a cultured negro preacher, begged the privilege of speaking, and when he had finished it is said that strong men were in tears. Proctor concluded his speech as follows:

"I speak for the two classes not yet heard before this committee—the white women of Georgia and my own race. Pass this prohibition bill and you will have sober servants, less crime and greater peace between the races. I appeal to you white men in your superior strength to give my people this law. The ballot has well-nigh fallen from my own hands. The responsibility is in you gentlemen of the Legislature. Take—I beseech you—take away from my people this temptation that is debauching so many of them. The best of my race like the best of yours, heartily favor this bill. But I plead for those who in sin and blindness, do not know their needs. Gentlemen of the Georgia Legislature, I beg you in God's name to save my people from this terrible temptation."

Here are a few steel mileposts: In 1850 we were consuming a million tons of steel, and thought we were doing big things. Twenty years later the needs of the country required 14,000,000 tons, and this year will call for 25,000,000 tons. In twenty-seven years the country's steel demands have increased twenty-five times. The railway mileage of the country alone now eats up 2,000,000 tons a year, whereas a quarter of a century ago the annual steel consumption of the United States for all uses was only half that amount.

Some belated agitator has started the discussion: "Should wives get salaries?" Wouldn't it be more apropos to discuss: "Should husbands get rebates for turning over the pay-envelope unopened?"

STANDPAT STATEMENT.

Uncle Joe Cannon virtually tells the Republican leaders they are in a tight place and that unless Congress is actuated by calmness and patriotism the party will be defeated in the coming national election. The burden of Uncle Joe's song is that the country is prosperous and there is no uneasiness except in Wall Street, and therefore, "It would be a crime if Congress should do anything at this time to upset business." That is another way of saying continue to standpat and let well enough alone—the old Hanna cry of bygone years. Uncle Joe likewise warns President Roosevelt to keep to the standpat path when he also said: "The destinies of the party lie very largely in the hands of Congress and the coordinate hands of the Government the executive." Will President Roosevelt standpat at the bidding of the protected trusts which Speaker Cannon has so faithfully served, especially the steel trust, by packing the ways and means committee with standpatters? Moody's Magazine, a reliable New York financial journal, which has the faculty of telling the truth about trusts and corporations, speaking of the steel trust its August number said: "If the steel corporation really were as protectionists assume, a struggling infant industry that could not survive long without tariff pap, and if the good people of this country were generous, kind and foolish enough to vote this tariff tax of $50,000,000 a year upon themselves, there would be no ground for criticism or complaint." If the steel corporation officials would even confine their tariff activity to arguments and to contributions to political parties they would not be censurable to any great extent. But when these officials, by some means, gain control of the leaders of the ways and means committee and the House of Representatives, and use their influence to suppress discussion of the tariff, they are playing the tariff game unfairly.

One of the latest installations that is contemplated by the Navy is a system of wireless telephones for battle-ships. A few years ago this would have been looked upon as an absolute chimera. But applied science has advanced to the point where a device is offered to the Navy that it is believed will fill the bill. Practically all the ships of the Navy now are fitted with wireless telegraph instruments. These work according to the strength of the electric equipment, up to 1,000 or 1,200 miles. They serve to keep the warships at almost all times in direct touch with Washington, for it is seldom that by a system of relays from other ships or shore stations any vessel of the Navy cannot be picked up and communicated with in a few hours in almost any part of the world. Some of the older naval officers are absolutely disgusted over this state of affairs. They swore with deep sea oaths many years ago that the submarine cable had ruined the naval service, keeping a commander always at the end of a wire that ended in the Navy Department. But the wireless instruments are even worse. The wireless telephone, however, is a much milder form of control. It is intended merely to keep the ships of a squadron in touch with the commander at night and in weather when the wig-wag and the Ardoise lights would be out of the question. The wireless telephone now works up to five miles in any sort of weather, and under favorable conditions much further. It is infinitely quicker than flag or lamp signal, but it probably will create a demand for expert stenographers in the Navy.

Those Pennsylvania State house-grafters are certainly strenuous fellows. Having stolen everything they could lay their hands on they are now trying to steal the evidence of their stealings, which has been collected and filed at Harrisburg. Those people of Pennsylvania calling themselves Republicans, however, consider all this excusable, or they would not continue to vote to keep the rascals in power.

"Hutchinson," says a Kansas paper, "needs more houses for rent." Kansas always was odd. In this part of the country the landlords seem to think they need "more rent" for their houses.

"The American people owe a great deal to the trusts," says a French writer. Well, we do not see what is to be done about it, unless the trusts will lead us the money to pay up.

IN THE MATTER OF PENSIONS.

General E. M. Law, editor of The Barton Courier-Informant has the following to say regarding the recent rulings of the State Board of Pensions:

A ruling of the State Board of Pensions at its meeting on last Thursday is of such importance to veterans who have applied or who intend to apply for pensions under the act of the last Legislature which provides that the certificate of the Adjutant of the U. S. V. camp to which the applicant belongs shall be sufficient proof of service.

The Board of Pensions has very properly ruled that the mere certificate of the Adjutant is not sufficient, and all applications where this mere formal certificate has been relied on have been returned. On this point the Board speaks in the following clear and decided terms:

"The board construes the spirit of the law to require unquestionable proof that the applicant performed faithful service to the Confederacy and that he did not desert. Such proof can only be made by the statements of persons who know of their own knowledge of the service or from official documents and records. The board has ordered the return to the clerks of the courts of applications filed under the Act of 1907, in which proof of service was made by the certificate of adjutant, for amendment to conform with the enclosed form."

The form referred to requires the Adjutant to make oath that he knows of his own knowledge and by documentary proof submitted to the camp on application for membership that the said applicant was a soldier or sailor in the service of the Confederate States during the war between the States and did not desert the same and that he is a member in good standing in camp No. — of United Confederate Veterans."

The board further rules that "in all cases where the Adjutant cannot conscientiously make this certificate the board will require the applicant to submit the affidavit of two comrades or of a commissioned officer. The Adjutant should have knowledge or proof of applicant's service from enlistment to honorable discharge."

"Every veteran should acquiesce cheerfully in this action of the Pension Board. While it may exclude some worthy veterans who are unable to make the required proof of service, it will exclude many who did no service, were never in the Confederate army or navy, and some deserters. The main question to be answered in the granting of any pension by the State should be: was the applicant actually in the service and was he true to his colors to the end?"

REPUBLICAN BLUFF.

The Republicans cannot forgive Oklahoma that her voters gave a Democratic majority, and Secretary Taft advises the voting down of the constitution, mainly on the avowed ground that the wicked Democrats have gerrymandered the new State. With every political close State in the Union a monument to Republican gerrymanders it is hardly seemly for Taft to cast the first stone, even if the Democrats have somewhat favored their own side. The people of Oklahoma must, however, remember that a Republican Congress will be rather slow in giving them another opportunity for Statehood, and whether it is not better to flee in the hills they know exist under a Republican territorial government to the apocryphal hills the Republican politicians assure them will come under Democratic government. One would think, to hear these Republicans talk, that the Democrats will, when in power, try to ruin their own property and create a Democratic desert out of a Republican rose garden.

Mrs. Eva Fox Strangways, now in the toms in New York for passing bogus checks, says that "money is the only qualification needed for breaking into Gotham society." She neglected to state, however, that it is necessary for the breaker-in to be able to put up some sort of bluff at being the real owner of the money in question.

A flash of lightning is reported to have peeled a sack full of onions. The lightning has always been noted for its eccentricities.

Col. Bryan was in another railroad wreck recently, but he survives every wreck, both railroad and political.

SERMONETTES

BY J. MARVIN NICHOLS.

It's the back-stairs-and-kitchen-slip that raises the devil from his hiding places.

A whole lot of girls are no more than cheap goods not yet marked down by time.

Society—a lot of people who have agreed to do the same thing in more or less the same way.

These pretty differences—the invisible barriers that raise themselves between human hearts! There is no wall like a word, no barbed-wire fence like a vow. The heart does not even step a promise. It does not invade the territory of a threat.

James McElhaney, a disciple of the Oster theory, has taken his own life. He practiced what he believed. He left this message: "There was a time when I could successfully combat the slings and arrows of an outrageous fortune, but now, when I have passed the Oster mark, I find it a losing battle, and deem it expedient to step the conflict. All things considered, I think it the part of wisdom and prudence, now while in health, sober, and in my right sense, to cross over the divide to the great beyond." Poor McElhaney believed that. The poor fellow was true to his convictions. He might have believed he had the right to steal, to make money at any hard, to believe that moral laws were false standards. He might have believed that one need to be concerned about no one but self. Suppose there were real convictions? Would we be justified in following our convictions? To be true to a false conviction is as fatal as being false to a true conviction.

Once, a ship sailing from the Orient brought a very large number of caged birds. In mid-ocean one restless bird escaped from the cage. In his wild delight, he swept through the air—away and away from his prison. He fairly bounded on outstretched wings. Freedom—how sweet it seemed. He disappeared across the trackless waste. After hours had passed, and to the amazement of a crew and passengers, he appeared again struggling to reach the ship on heavy wings. He settled breathlessly on the deck. Over the boundless deep he had sought the ship again—now no longer his prison, but his happy home. Like the caged bird, many a restless spirit has left an environment grown burdensome in the aimless flight across the stormy main of life he comes back to find the old place transformed into joy and comfort. The lovers that drift from us in the long ago will return when the shadows lengthen. It may be the flight is necessary to teach a secret that is learned only when the seas are raging. The poor heart turned loose to wander alone in the storm never forgets the happy hours in affection's early morning. He cannot forget the bliss when love whispers her secrets.

NEW FORAGE GRASS FOR FLORIDA STOCK

Prominent Stock Admirer Says It
Will be God-Send to Florida.

ORIGINAL PRODUCT OF CUBA

It Has Been Tested Here, However, and the Seeds Thrive and Yield Prolifically—Three Crops a Year Can Be Gathered as Forage.

Attorney B. A. Thrasher, who is a great admirer of stock, and who owns a nice farm a short distance to the west of Gainesville, believes he has solved the problem of feed for cattle in Florida. Col. Thrasher has been experimenting with this forage for the past year, and declares it to be the best thing for the Florida stockman that has ever been discovered.

The forage referred to by Col. Thrasher is an original product of Cuba, and is known as Guinea grass. It is very prolific, and, Col. Thrasher says, planted on fairly good land in this State will grow thick and heavy, and will reach a height of from seven to ten feet if permitted to grow unharvested.

Col. Thrasher, through a friend, heard of this wonderful grass in the spring of last year, and ordered from Cuba a small quantity for an experiment. He planted the seed, which sprouted and grew prolifically, and which proved as represented, excellent forage, and very fattening to cattle and stock.

"I can say frankly that, after a thorough test of the Guinea grass, I believe it to be a problem solver for the cattle industry of Florida," remarked Col. Thrasher Tuesday. "I knew nothing about it, of course, when I ordered the seed, but planted them according to my own judgment, in the absence of directions, with the result that I had a prolific crop from my investment. The seed are very small, about the same size as mustard seed, and one seed will yield an armful of sweet forage as anyone would want to see."

"My experience teaches me that, for ordinary cultivation, the seed should be sown in furrows; but if a pasture is desired, they may be thrown broadcast. If it is desired to use the grass as forage, it should be mowed when about waist high. In that manner three crops a year could be easily produced without repeated sowings."

Col. Thrasher stated that the grass stood the cold of last winter well, coming up fresh and green in the spring. He is very enthusiastic over this new forage, and will be glad to answer any further inquiries regarding it.

DR. SLEDD'S SERMON.

This Eloquent Divine Delivered Fine
Discourse Last Sunday Morning.

One of the religious treats of the year was the sermon delivered at the First Methodist church Sunday morning by Dr. Andrew Sledd, president of the University of Florida, who selected as his theme, "What Doth the Lord Require But to Do Justice, to Love Mercy, and to Walk Humbly With Thy God?"

The mere announcement that Dr. Sledd will fill the pulpit of any church in the city is sufficient to attract a large congregation, and this was no exception, as the big church was filled almost to its full capacity to hear this eloquent divine on the Word of God. Dr. Sledd is a most earnest, impressive speaker, and throws his whole soul into his work. He dwelt upon this subject in a language beautifully peculiar to all his efforts, and those who heard it pronounced it one of the most impressive sermons they ever listened to.

It is indeed a treat to hear Dr. Sledd, who is very kind in filling the pulpit of the various churches of the city as a matter of accommodation to the clergy, all of which is duly appreciated.

Horse Stunned by Lightning.

W. F. Grissom was in the city from Rochelle yesterday. Mr. Grissom had quite an experience a few days ago, when he was driving. The lightning struck so near his team that his horse was knocked down, and he was also stunned. The horse appeared to be very badly affected, and it required an hour or more to restore it to consciousness, but the animal seems to be all right now, save a few scars about the ribs.

ORANGES WELL ADVANCED.

Florida Crop From First Bloom Will Be Light, However.

A recent dispatch to The New York Packer from Cincinnati, Ohio, says: "James A. Baird, of Alexander & Baird, orange packers and shippers at Beresford and other points in Florida, was here this week. He says oranges in Florida are well advanced for this season of the year, and promise to be of good quality. However, the crop will be very short. His firm estimates that this season's crop will be about 60 per cent of last year's. Forty per cent of the crop is of the first bloom and will come off before the first of January. They figure that there will be hardly enough oranges to supply the trade from the first bloom until January 1, and they estimate the total crop will not run more than 3,000,000 boxes. Mr. Alexander recently returned to Beresford from a six weeks' trip through the orange section, and has contracted considerable fruit. They have secured a mature crop of oranges on Alligator creek in the vicinity of Punta Gorda, which is in the southern portion of DeSoto county, and will start to packing about September 25. The firm will handle the fruit from all the irrigated groves about Wauchula except one or two. They have a packing house at this point. These groves, like all other groves that had rain, will have a full crop from the first bloom. He says there is nearly a full crop in the vicinity of Arcadia, as this strip of land was favored with rain during the drought."

"Last year there were 1,000,000 boxes of grapefruit and tangerines shipped from Florida, and it is estimated the total amount this season will hardly be over one-half that quantity. DeLand and Beresford are considered among the most important grapefruit and tangerine points in the State."

"This firm last year shipped 73,000 boxes and expects to handle as many this year. They have been in business a great many years and have a big line of regular customers to supply; in fact, most of the early crop has already been sold. They have a few cars to be disposed of besides the regular run after the latter part of the month."

"In answering the question as to what is being done in the way of securing a lower freight rate and better railroad service in Florida, Mr. Baird said: 'It will be an uphill fight for the association, which was recently organized, to bring about a reform. We want better service and are believers in good service and are willing to pay for it if the railroad companies would improve their roadbeds and get better equipment.'

"We are willing to pay the same rate, but it seems the service gets worse every year. If the Legislature would pay more attention to forcing the railroads to give better service instead of wasting time in efforts to secure reduction of rates it would be much better for the shippers, railroads and all concerned."

CATARH IS CURABLE.

Successful Experiments in Abating and Curing This Disease.

Catarrh is an entirely unnecessary disease and should not be tolerated for a single day now that Hyomei is so generally known and has made so many cures in Gainesville and other towns.

Until comparatively recent times catarrh was thought to be a blood disease and stomach dosing the only treatment. Modern science finally disproved this idea of the cause of catarrh, and found that it was a germ disease and, after many experiments, the remedy was decided to be Hyomei.

Hyomei medicates the air you breathe; it kills the catarrhal germs; it heals the smarting and raw membranes of the passages in the nose and throat; it cures all catarrhal troubles.

As there is life and health in the air in the mountain-tops where the pine forests give off their fragrant and healing balsams, so there is life and health in breathing Hyomei. There is no need of suffering from catarrh if the simple and natural treatment of Hyomei is used.

So sure is this prescription to cure even the worst cases of catarrh, that J. W. McCollum & Co. sell it under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it.

SUGAR WAS A BIG MAN

But W. R. Steckert Received Many Courtesies Due That Gentleman.

A rather amusing incident is related at the expense of W. R. Steckert of this city, who, with Arthur T. Williams, has just returned from a fishing trip on the Gulf coast and up the Suwannee river.

Mr. Steckert, who is known the whole State over for his hospitable, agreeable manner, is a fellow who loves fun, and who loves to make fun right. He never goes out on a "frolic" without plenty of everything which goes to make the occasion a success, and the moment he leaves the cares of business behind he drops them until he returns and gets into harness again.

Upon this occasion Mr. Steckert had invited his friend, Mr. Williams, to join him in a few days' fishing on the coast. By arrangement they met in Gainesville, and, having secured all the necessities of the trip and sent them ahead, they boarded the train for Cedar Key.

Arriving at the point of destination about 8:30 o'clock Mr. Steckert, carrying a heavy grip, followed by his friend and comrade, Mr. Williams, stepped from the coach, when they were greeted by a friendly:

"Why, hello, Sugar, I am so glad to see you; how have you been coming along?"

"Oh, fairly well," replied Mr. Steckert, naturally supposing that he had met one of his old friends under the pale moonlight.

"Sugar, let me carry that grip for you; I know it must be awful heavy. Come along with me now, you and your friend, and we will go up to the house."

The trio walked slowly along the pier, "Sugar's" friend chatting all the while, permitting his companions only to get in a word edgewise once in a while. When they arrived at a cigar store this obliging friend who was lugging Steckert's 125-pound grip suddenly halted.

"Boys, we must all have a smoke before we get to the house, and we will sit there and smoke and talk over old times together. Come in."

"This is a Dickens of a note," thought Mr. Steckert, as he was becoming all the more puzzled. "If I'm not Sugar, why who is Sugar?" he queried to himself, "but I'll see this out if it costs me trouble."

The trio went into the store, approaching the cigar case and ordered the cigars. "Sugar, my boy, what brand do you smoke?"

"See here," good-naturedly replied Mr. Steckert, while Mr. Williams looked on in amazement, not knowing "what was which" at this stage of the program, "what do you mean by calling me 'Sugar'? I never was in my life sweet enough for even the folks at home to apply that reference to me."

"Well, by Jove, the joke is up to me," replied the stranger in astonishment. "I was looking for a friend of mine named Sugar tonight, and if you aren't the living image of Sugar, I'll eat my hat. At any rate, the joke is on me, so have the best cigar in the house."

The gentlemen lit their cigars, had a good laugh, subjected themselves to an informal introduction, when the "victim" of the joke excused himself and hied away to find Sugar, whom he felt sure was on the same train.

It has not been learned whether Mr. Sugar ever arrived in Cedar Key, as nothing more was heard from his friend.

NEWBERRY PERSONALS.

Newberry, Sept. 11.—Miss Ada Pierce left Tuesday for Live Oak, where she will spend a week with relatives.

Mrs. George Dunham and son, Carroll, of Muscatine, Ia., are here, guests of the former's sister, Mrs. E. A. Groff.

Miss Lizzie Hamilton of Jonesville is here for a few days, a guest of her sister, Mrs. John Fortson.

Mrs. George Livingston, accompanied by Master Fred Myers, left Monday morning for Georgia, where they will spend several weeks visiting friends and relatives.

Misses Maud Lewis and Minnie Lee spent Monday here, guests of Mrs. D. G. Roland.

W. G. Chapman visited Worthington Sunday, returning Monday night.

Mrs. C. O. Green and sister, Miss Clem Pickett, of Jonesville, were here shopping and visiting friends Friday.

Mrs. Newlan of Archer is here on a visit to her brother, Dr. S. A. Huesey.

Mrs. J. F. Ruff and little son, Spencer, have returned home after a several weeks' visit to Pensacola.

Percy Getson of Fort White is here on a visit to his brother, Dr. S. F. Getson.

Party at Tacoma.

Laciur Emerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Emerson, Tacoma, gave a party to a number of his friends Saturday evening, and it is needless to add that the function, which was well attended, was highly enjoyed.

There were about fifteen present. The occasion was passed in games, etc., incidentally elegant refreshments being served.

After partaking of his hospitality, the guests of Mr. Emerson departed, wishing him "health and happiness."

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Interesting Monthly Meeting, at Which Officers Were Elected.

The monthly business meeting of the League of First Methodist church was held Monday night. The general election of officers was held and the following were elected and will be installed next Sunday afternoon:

President—D. L. Graham; 1st vice-president—R. E. Huffman; 2nd vice-president—Miss Myrtle Fennell; 3rd vice-president—Miss Mary DuCote; 4th vice-president—Miss Lily Mamm; secretary—Miss Maude Neville; treasurer—Jasper McPherson; agent Epworth League—Sydney Giddens; organist—Miss Louise Nixon; reporter—Chas. A. Nixon.

Mr. Dow is Better.

A card has been received from Mr. W. H. Dow, Greenwood, S. C., stating information that Mr. Dow is a great deal better, and that he is now enabled to get around with the aid of a cane with comparative ease.

This will be gratifying information to the friends in this section of Mr. Dow, who have felt anxious for his recovery to his normal health.

Mrs. Dow writes that W. H. Dow is making quite a "hit" in Greenwood, and that he is the pet of the town.

Mr. and Mrs. Dow have gone to Abbeville, S. C., where they expect to remain until October 1, when they will return home.

A Good Peach Crop.

Mrs. J. B. Shannon of Milledgeville was in the city Tuesday, en route home from New York, where, with Mr. Shannon, she spent the last two or three weeks of the season. Mr. and Mrs. Shannon have been spending the summer in Milledgeville, Ga., in the vicinity of which Mr. Shannon is interested in a peach orchard. Unfortunately, the season was short, the season produced 12,000 crates of peaches, which brought good prices in the Northern markets. Mr. Shannon was compelled to remain in Atlanta two days or two on his return, but he reached home the 1st inst. of the week.

What Has Happened and What is Going to Happen Told in Short Paragraphs So That "We Who Run May Read" It in The Sun.

From Sunday's Daily Sun:

Miss Maggie Toledo of Windsor spent yesterday in this city as a guest of friends.

Mrs. C. A. W. Thomas and daughter, Miss May, have returned from a visit to relatives at Waldo.

Mrs. J. V. Burke of Jacksonville is in the city on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. J. R. Merchant.

For Sale Cheap—Several mules suitable for farm work. Address Otter Creek Lumber Co., Otter Creek, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Emerson, Mrs. A. D. Doby and William Simpson spent Sunday with relatives and friends at Tucson.

E. W. Mahabon, the contractor, has returned from Jacksonville, where he has been engaged in contracting for the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Manning and sons, Miller, Alfred and Allen, have returned from St. Augustine, where they spent a week visiting friends. They report a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Thompson arrived in the city yesterday from Holden, and will be here for a few days as guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. W. Thomas.

Mrs. L. de Vampert and son are at home again, after a pleasant visit to Asheville, N. C., covering a period of a couple of months. Friends here are glad to greet them again.

Miss Lila Turbert, who has been visiting relatives in Madison, is stopping for a few days with her aunt, Mrs. George Smith, before going to Milton, which will be her future home.

Johnny Woodall of Alabama is in the city. He came to look after the estate of T. H. Waterworth, who conducted a general store in Rocky Point, but who died in Jacksonville a few weeks ago.

G. A. Ochsberg has returned from Jacksonville, N. C., where, with Mrs. Ochsberg and daughter, Miss Lila, he has been summering. Mrs. Ochsberg and Miss Lila expect to return in a few days.

Mrs. W. T. Chasnet and children left yesterday for Arredondo, where they will spend a week. They were accompanied by Glover Taylor, who will spend the week as a guest of his friend, Chasnet.

Friends of Miss Estelle Beall are glad to see her at her desk again in the office of County Clerk Wilego. Miss Beall has been quite ill for the past few days, but has entirely recovered, which is gratifying.

After a few weeks delightfully spent at her old home in Virginia, Miss Margaret B. Taylor returned home Sunday, and Monday morning resumed her position as stenographer at the Gainesville National Bank.

Mrs. Susan Moyer, who has been in Virginia and elsewhere for the past few months, arrived in the city Saturday night, and is again located at her home on West Main street N., much to the delight of her friends.

O. B. Bailey, who for the past two weeks has been sojourning at Daytona Beach, has returned to his duties as clerk in the store of J. H. Vidal. He has been indisposed, and the change proved of great benefit to him.

Dr. E. B. and Lute Howell, two well-known citizens of Newberry, were among those who spent yesterday in Gainesville. Like all others coming from that thriving town, they state that Newberry is on a big building boom.

Conductor J. H. Carter and daughter, Miss Beale, of Irvine, have gone to Red Springs, N. C., where the latter will enter the Red Springs Seminary, one of the most widely known educational institutions in that section of the country.

Rev. Mr. Proctor, a Baptist divine of Lake Butler, was in the city for a few hours yesterday. He was en route home from the Beville section, a few miles west of the city, where he conducted services Sunday. The people of that section are endeavoring to erect a new church.

E. K. Rosborough of Jacksonville, representing the W. B. Johnson Company, wholesale grocers, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rosborough, of Windsor. He has established a fine trade for his firm throughout this section, being well known.

J. J. Haymans, the naval stores operator of Lochloosa, is on a brief visit to his family here. Mr. Haymans, who owns considerable property in Gainesville, keeps his family here to give the children the benefit of the exceptional school and church advantages.

Miss Mamie Shutt is at home again, after a visit of several weeks to her friend, Mrs. Margaret Hull, Diamond Lake, Mich. She also visited Niagara Falls during her absence, which she pronounces as perfectly grand. Miss Shutt's friends are glad to welcome her home again.

Hon. Fred Cubberly, collector of customs of the ports of Cedar Key and Port Inglis, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Cubberly states that exports from Port Inglis have been quite lively for the past few weeks, there being eight ships at that port on Monday. The principal exports are phosphate and lumber.

Rev. J. C. Collum, the Baptist divine of Waldo who for years has been well known and popular in this section of the State, has accepted a call to the First Baptist Church of Palatka, which is one of the largest and best churches in that city. Dr. Collum's friends will extend congratulations upon this appointment, but will nevertheless regret to lose his valuable services in this territory.

J. A. Roberts, the clever manager of the naval stores establishment of Stringfellow & Oliver, near this city, expects to leave this morning for White Springs, where he will recuperate for the next few days. Mr. Roberts has been suffering severely for some time with herpes, and goes with the hope that the waters of that famous spring will benefit him. His friends hope to see him return entirely cured.

From Wednesday's Daily Sun:

James S. Bailey of Newberry was in the city on business yesterday.

J. E. Parker of LaCrosse was among those who spent Monday in this city.

J. E. Stirling, a progressive farmer of Trenton, was trading in the city yesterday.
